RECOVERY.

Great Britain is giving evidence of remendous powers of recuperation in

When the war ended, Great Brit nin's foreign trade totaled $6,500,000. 000: Last year the exports were $6, 900,000,000 and the imports were $9. E00,000,000, or a total of $16,200,000. 600, which is more than the foreign trade of the United States.

The remarkable feature of this recovery is the excess of imports over exports to the amount of three billion dollars. What has made this possible? It is traceable to Great Britain's mastery of the world's trade and development over a long period of years, dur ing which the world's indebtedness to British interest grew to such proportions that the interest, paid in imports, allowed the British to sustain an adverse balance of trade which reached huge figures. That other nations continue deeply in the debt of the British is disclosed in this trade recovery and ability to command imports exceeding exports to the extent of billions of dollars.

Intense Work Features Friday Sessions of State Representatives

SALT LAKE Jan. 29 -- Intense work featured the assaton of the house of representatives vesterday. The house passed five measures, defeated one, istened to the reading of titles of seven new bills, received several bills. from the senate and sent them to com-mitteen and spent two hours debat-ing house bill No. 9, by Representa-tive Howell, relative to a tax levy by commissioners for publicity pur-

The seven bills introduced included

The seven bills infroduced included a measure by Seegmiller, providing for a reorganization of the state road commission and dividing twenty-nine counties of the state into five road districts. This bill is expected to become one of the most important on the subject of roads which will be brought up at the present session.

The house received six measures from the senate, four of which originated in the lower branch. House bill No. 15, by 8. W. Morrison, abolishing the board of park commissioners, was returned as passed and sent to the enrolling and engrossing committee House bill No. 7, by McShane, abolishing the publicity and development board, and House bill No. 8, also by dicShane, providing for collecting taxes on transient livestock, also came back from the senate, were enacted and sent to the enrolling and engrowing committee.

BACK FROM SENATE.

House bill No. 4, by Ivers, provid-ing for counties borrowing money a ate as high as 8 per cent in anticipation of tax receipts, was returned from the senate, but the amendments willed to arrive with the measure and action on it was deferred pending re-ceipt of the senate amendments. Sen-ate bill No. 18, by Tebbs, relating to the suspension and liquidation of state banks, was received and referred to he committee on banking. House concurrent resolution No. 3, by Imlay memoralizing the Arizona legislatur to pure the Arrowhead Trail bill not before that body, was returned and sent to the enrolling and engressing ummittee House bill No. 48, by McShane

Upsets came to the banking business of the country in 1920, and in parts of the intermountain region theire was strain and stress, which halted business. Yet this financial stringency did not keep Ogden's banking institutions from making a record showing.

In 1919 the bank clearings of Ogden and in 1919 the bank clearings of Ogden are discovered and totaled $118,839,816. For last year they were $133,604,020, or an increase of 12.6 per cent.
